Principals Update: Testing Results and Guardian Schools Guide

Dear Parents and Carers,

As we have concluded our two days of COVID testing before return to school, I wanted to update you with the results. We have conducted over 790 tests over two days in our testing facilities. All the tests have returned negative, which is very good news. All students are now able to return to school tomorrow and any absences should be reported into school in the usual way.

Sadly, it looks like the last two days good weather will end tonight, and tomorrow is forecast for rain all day. Please ensure your young person ready for the day with full uniform (PE uniform allowed on PE days); a good raincoat, and packed lunch, if one is not being ordered in school. The staff are really looking forward to having students in school. Parents have done a great job at supporting remote learning, but we will take over that responsibility for you now.

On a final note of good news, I have been informed of our rating in the Guardian Schools Guide. This takes account of a wide range of factors and can be found here: Fairfield High School, Bristol | The Guardian Schools Guide. The map that accompanies the numbers shows the scores of other schools in Bristol and I am pleased to say that Fairfield, according to the Guardian Newspaper, has the best score of all Bristol schools or to put it another way. The Guardian says we are the best school in Bristol. That is something all our school communities can be very proud of creating.

Best Wishes,

Nick Lewis – Principal
